THE KEPPLEWAY
CENTRE

'REALISING EVERYONE'S POTENTIAL'

Inspiring and encouraging young people whatever their age and ability

Keppleway – Opening The World Beyond The Classroom

Welcome To Kepplewray

The Kepplewray Centre is situated in the Lake District National Park and within the 11th century market town of Broughton in Furness. This phenomenally beautiful and inspiring region is at the entrance to the Duddon Valley, one of Cumbria's best-kept secrets, and plays host to some nationally recognised sporting activities such as The Duddon Valley Fell Race and The Fred Whitton Challenge cycle race.

The Centre occupies a large Victorian mansion set in its own grounds, and offers full board accommodation plus an extensive range of outdoor activities, led by our enthusiastic and qualified instructors. Whatever the age or level of ability, we encourage our visitors to try everything, have fun and enhance their lives by pushing back personal boundaries. Our activity programmes offer everyone the chance to participate fully alongside their peers and build positive relationships in a relaxed, safe environment.

At the end of a busy day you can look forward to wonderful home cooked food, and then either relax in warm, comfortable surroundings, or enjoy some evening activities devised and led by our irrepressible instructors.

"The beauty of Kepplewray's philosophy is the way it raises a person's self-esteem; it emphasises what you can do, not what you can't."

— A Teacher from Surrey

Learning Outside the Classroom

We believe that every young person, whatever their age should have the opportunity to learn beyond the classroom, whether they're striving for the summit on The Old Man of Coniston, discovering the history and the ingenuity of the people who worked the quarries or in the depths of the tunnels where copper was mined. These are just some of the experiences that link into the National Curriculum, through History, Geography, Geology, Science, PE, and English, which vividly enhance their stay at Kepplewray.

Not only will young people benefit academically, they will expand their horizons, develop their communication and social skills and build self-confidence by working as part of a team.

To create this unforgettable and worthwhile experience let our team guide you in designing a programme that allows your young people to enjoy learning in the great outdoors.

Realising Everyone's Potential

Ahead of your visit to Kepplewray we will liaise with you to ensure we understand your aims for the young people, whether they are educational, personal development, or enhancing social skills. Throughout your visit our instructors will ensure that your objectives are achieved and that the entire group has a great experience.

"May I thank you all for providing a time of challenge, fun & adventure and giving everyone special memories which will last a lifetime... The children returned home absolutely exhilarated and have not stopped talking about their time there."

— Head Teacher Sunderland
